If You're Struggling with How to Implement an Effective ESL Program in Your School, Here's a Proven Solution

It can be demanding for Middle and High School students to effectively learn both academic English and the challenging content of a state-adopted curriculum. Here are some of the disturbing statistics:

- According to U.S. Census Bureau (2000), one fifth of the students enrolled in the public school system are second language learners.
- Of these second language learners, Hispanics represented the largest group.
- Hispanic bilingual students have had the lowest levels of education and the highest dropout rate of any ethnic group in the country:
- 30% for Hispanics, 13% for African-Americans, and 8% for Whites (U.S. Department of Education, 1996; Kaufman & Frase, 1990; Snow, Burns, & Griffin, 1998).

Meeting the challenges of students and teachers requires a versatile program -- a program that is available 24/7, and is reliable, engaging, and scientifically based.

Take the Guesswork out of Trying to Select an ESL Program That Will Actually Work for Your School

ESLreadingsmart.com is a Web-based learning environment for ESL students and teachers. It provides a multilevel reading program and curriculum that supports ESL classroom instruction from upper elementary to high school.

ESLreadingsmart.com has been effectively used in nearly 300 schools since the academic year 2001-2002. In that year it ran a successful pilot program at O'Donnell Middle School in Houston. The program is now widely used in many public school districts in Texas: Alief, Clear Creek, Channelview, Deer Park, Ed Couch- Elsa, Fort Bend, Goose Creek, Grand Prairie, Houston, Katy, La Porte, San Antonio, and Texas City, among many others.

ESLreadingsmart.com is also being implemented in several schools in the states of New York, Florida, California, Arizona, Nevada, Arkansas, and North Carolina.

ESLReadingSmart.com Has Been Proven Time and Again to Improve Students' English Language Skills

Statistical analysis has proven the effectiveness of ESLreadingsmart.com as an ESL/ELD instructional program. ESLreadingsmart.com has actually increased SAT 9/10 Reading and Language scores of students who completed more than ten ESLreadingsmart.com lessons in a school year, in contrast to those who did not. The study was carried out in Katy (Texas) Independent School District in 2003-2004 and 2004-2005 with a total population of 1,500 students in grades 6-11.

Esreadingsmart.Com's Instructional Material Complies With Challenging State And Nationwide Academic Standards

This online program meets the demands of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. It complies with Title I: Improving the Academic Achievement of the Disadvantaged, SEC. 1001, and Title III: Language Instruction for Limited English Proficient and Immigrant Students, SEC. 3102. Instructional objectives are aligned with Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS), Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS), Sunshine State Language Arts Reading Standards, California, Arizona, and Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) international ESOL Standards.

Don't Take Our Word For It, Read What Students and Teachers Have to Say

"With four Friday classes utilizing the ESL ReadingSmart program, students improved their computer literacy skills. They were always excited when they received 90% or 100% on their comprehension tests or fill-in-the-blank activities. Such stories as "La Llorona" or "The Lady in Black" were not only interesting to read, they also gave students a sense of cultural ownership since 99% of the students were Mexican Americans."

-Jia-Yi Cheng-Levine, Ph.D., Professor, University of Houston
